

Four unique installations - one unique solution - Britannia Exhaust Canopies.

Britannia Kitchen Exhaust Canopies are the engineered solution that provides for superior extraction and particulate capture, whilst requiring less air than other units. All Britannia canopies are specifically tailored to the individual installation for optimum performance, and systems can include UV grease destruction where required. Solutions include Extract only, Capturestream CS3 models with three-sided Capturestream technology, and Econex Front and Back extraction for heavy duty cookbanks. Rosscorn were involved with all Britannia installations shown below.
